Happy November!!

I hope everyone has a great harvest season where everything runs and goes smoothly for you!

Anyone that was approved for CAIP don't forget, you will need an education component to go along with whatever you might be funding. If you plan to do anything with cattle and do not have an updated BQCA (Beef Quality Care Assurance) you will also need to get that plus an educational component. If you have attended an event within the last 6 months that was an educational event that can also count towards your education component I just have to have proof that you attended the event to be able to sign off on it. If you haven't you can always call the office and get a time scheduled to come in and watch a video for your education or attended any of the different conferences I share! If you have any questions or needing to get these done call the office 859-238-2312 and get a time and day set up!

Lastly, I hope everyone has a wonderful and blessed Thanksgiving holiday, try not to eat too much and get stuffed!!

Upcoming Events:

- November 1st: Grazing Conference "Low stress livestock handling for serious graziers." Fayette Co. Office
